WRUW-FM 91.1

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

RADIO PLAYS. WRUW will present radio plays through the National Public Radio Network on Sunday nights at 10 p.m. and Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. This week's program will feature "The Jarrott Syndrome," written by Mort Forer.

Every night at midnight, segments of the serial, "The Fourth Tower of Inverness," will be aired with a capsule summary presented Sunday evening. Additionally, our local production, "A Room of One's Own," will often feature dramatic productions with a feminist accent.

...AND THE WAR DRAGS ON. A live presentation of news, music, commentary and readings related to the continuing war in Indo-China, this Wednesday at 10 p.m.

LESTER YOUNG. Bill Anderson is presenting a chronology of the great saxophonist's work every Wednesday evening at 11:15 p.m. "The Prez" will be featured with Billie Holliday, Count Basie and the Kansas City Seven in fifteen-minute segments each week.

FOLK MUSIC. David Fracht, former General Manager of WRUW, has returned with an evening of modern folk music at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays. On Thursday, Peter Rubens plays modern as well as English and traditional folk music from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m.

For a more complete description of our daily programming, pick up a copy of our October program guide. If you can't find any in your dorm, drop by our studios in the Mather Memorial Building, or call us at 368-2208.

Getting Down

...ing to submit is welcome as long as he writes poetry, fiction or essays, is willing to submit it to an editorial board, and can get one legible copy to either myself in Mather House (x3120) or to Jody Gilbert (her mailbox is on the main floor of Clark Hall) by the 30th of this month. Comments or queries of any kind will be cheerfully answered by either M. Sklan or M. Schechter, reachable in Mather.

Class comes to WRUW

MATHER HOUSE CONTEST SERIES - The first Mather House Concert of the season, sponsored jointly by Mather House and WRUW-FM, is scheduled for this Sunday, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m. in Harkness Chapel.

The concert will feature Donald Manildi and Lawrence Rapchak in a program of symphonic works transcribed for four-hand piano. Donald is a D.M.A. candidate in piano at CIM, studying with Vilia Vronsky. Larry is a senior in composition, studying with Donald Erb.

Works by Rossini, Beethoven, Schubert, and Brahms will be performed and the concert is free, of course.

LIVE-FOLK - Hessler Court's very own Laura Brown will be performing for WRUW-FM's radio audience this Monday morning, Oct. 16, at 9 a.m.

Laura sings and plays guitar, performing original songs as well as well-known folk creations. Laura's beautiful voice is known to all who have any familiarity with the local folk scene, and those who have heard her will certainly tune in for this treat. Newcomers to Cleveland will certainly want to introduce their ears to some of the sweetest sounds they will ever hear.

Laura promises to do her version of "Amazing Grace," so be sure and tune to 91.1 on Monday morning for some "good singin' and pickin'."
